

PART 1

INTRODUCTION

The Council's Constitution

East Cambridgeshire District Council has revised its constitution which sets out how the Council operates, how decisions are made and the procedures which are followed to ensure that these are efficient, transparent and accountable. Some of these processes are required by the law, while others are a matter for the Council to choose.

The Constitution is divided into 6 Parts. The 12 Articles in Part 2 set out the basic rules governing the Council's business. These are supplemented by procedures and codes of practice which are provided.

What's in the Constitution?

Article 1: sets out the Council's overall purpose and its strategic objectives.

Articles 2-12: explains the rights of citizens and how the key parts of the Council operate. The Council is composed of Councillors elected every four years. The overriding duty of Councillors is to the whole community, but they have a special duty to their constituents, including those who did not vote for them.

When Councillors take up office they have to agree to follow a code of conduct to ensure high standards in the way they undertake their duties. The Monitoring Officer shall arrange training and provide advice to Members on the code of conduct.

Composition of the Council

The Council is composed of 39 Councillors.

The current political make-up of the Council [as at September 2017¹] is:

Conservative Group – 35
Liberal Democratic Group – 3
Independent – 1
